Mont Blanc Is Advertised
Light of the Mind
Thinking Big and Small
An Ancient Dread

Francis H. Sisson, vice president of the Guaranty Trust company, repeats what has often been said here, that the big problem is not production, but distribution.

Business is on the up grade. Mr. Sisson does not agree with that distinguished political economist, Solly Wehrheim, who says, "Business is looking up, but on its back, looking up."

Mr. Sisson reminds merchants that with adequate advertising goods can be sold at a lower price than without advertising.

First, have what the people want, then let them know you have it.

Consider Mont Blanc, nice mountain in Switzerland.

One million and eighty thousand people visited Mont Blanc last year, spending more than $10,000,000 in little communities near the mountain. Only 100 climbed to the top.

We have bigger, better mountains, but they don't get the advertising that Mont Blanc gets, and they don't take in the money.

It is true that established reputation helps Mont Blanc. It is also true that advertising helps to establish reputations, and keep them established.

There is no better work than distributing good books. They are the light of the mind, stimulate ambition, develop good taste, prepare men's minds for service in the present, by making them acquainted with the achievements, discoveries and services of the past.

Mr. George H. Putnam, veteran of the Civil war, and a most distinguished veteran of the book publishing profession, now dead at eighty-five years of age, represents public service in a high degree.

New York's police force includes a "radical squad," selected to deal with rebellious radicals.

Planning that squad in days of extraordinary prosperity, somebody was looking far ahead.

As a rule, prosperity is more effective than poison gas in dealing with radicalism.

In the clash between unemployed radicals and police in New York, the photographs show women struggling and fighting more violently than men. Nothing surprising in this. When women believe anything they believe it more violently than men. And when they believe, nothing is important compared with their belief, and they care little what happens to them.

Henry Ford will say in Capper's Magazine for April that "It is just as easy to think big as it is to think small."

It is, after you get a start. For instance, in 1859, seventy-one years ago, John D. Rockefeller, who began working as office boy for $15 a month, started for himself as a commission man. He began "thinking big." He had accumulated $17,000 in 1882 and took a partner, Maurice B. Clark. They invested their money in a crude oil "refinery" in Cleveland.

That was the beginning of "thinking big."

In 1883 Mr. Rockefeller, who is now approaching his ninety-first birthday, and was then twenty-five, bought out this partner for $72,500. Standard Oil corporation papers were signed on January 10, 1870. Standard Oil is now sixty years old.

John D. Rockefeller has been "thinking big" ever since.

His best "big thinking" has been devoted to the fight against disease. Instead of using a few dollars to relieve individual cases, he uses tens of millions to eliminate disease permanently.

Signals to protect pedestrians from automobiles are to be installed in big cities and "amber colored" lights are suggested. The police say: "Drivers will pay no attention to anything but red. That makes them stop."

Why is it that red impresses men, and even the lower animals? Is it, perhaps, because men, for forty million years, and animals through hundreds of millions of years before man came, have known and inherited one great dread, the red blaze of a forest or prairie fire?

The national industrial conference held last week tells you that the wealth of the United States amounts to three hundred and sixty billion one hundred million. It sounds a lot, but it is only $3,000 for each American, with about $500 extra for New Yorkers. That isn't enough.

Human machines alone, leaving out mines, real estate, factories, are worth more than three hundred and sixty billions.

This land and its people are worth whatever science and industry choose to produce—certainly not mere billions, but trillions.

Taxes may be bigger. President Hoover warns congress that it is inclined to spend money too freely. An increase of 40 per cent in taxes might follow any too liberal appropriations.

DIST. TOURNAMENT OPENS HERE TODAY

12 TEAMS SCHEDULED TO PLAY THURS., FRI., AND SAT., AFTERNOONS AND EVENINGS

Everything is all set for the basketball tournament which is going to open today, the twelve high school teams of northern Michigan participating. These teams have been getting ready for this event for a long time and a real fight will be on. Each team is confident that they are the one who will be the champion of this event. Keen playing will be seen as every team is in fine shape for the battle.

C. A. Potter of Mt. Pleasant and Roy Milnes are the official referees for the tournament. Fred Alexander will be time keeper and Gerald Poor will keep the score. The first game will start at 2:30 Thursday afternoon and each afternoon and evening games will be played until the final Saturday night.

Drawings for places were made last Saturday with the district manager and several coaches of the various teams being present and the following is the result:

Class D Eliminations
For teams in class D, Hillman drew their first game with St. Joseph (West Branch). They will be first to enter the court, and are scheduled to appear at 2:30 Thursday.

Comins will meet Houghton Lake at 3:45 the same afternoon. Vanderbilt will play McBain at 7:30 Thursday evening and Mio will fight it out with St. Mary's (Gaylord) at 8:45 Thursday night.

Grayling will contest against Lake City at 8:00 o'clock Friday evening, and West Branch and Gaylord will play at 9:15 on Friday night.

The winners of the class D games will play on Friday afternoon and Saturday night. Also on Friday and Saturday afternoons consolation games for class D and for class C will be played.

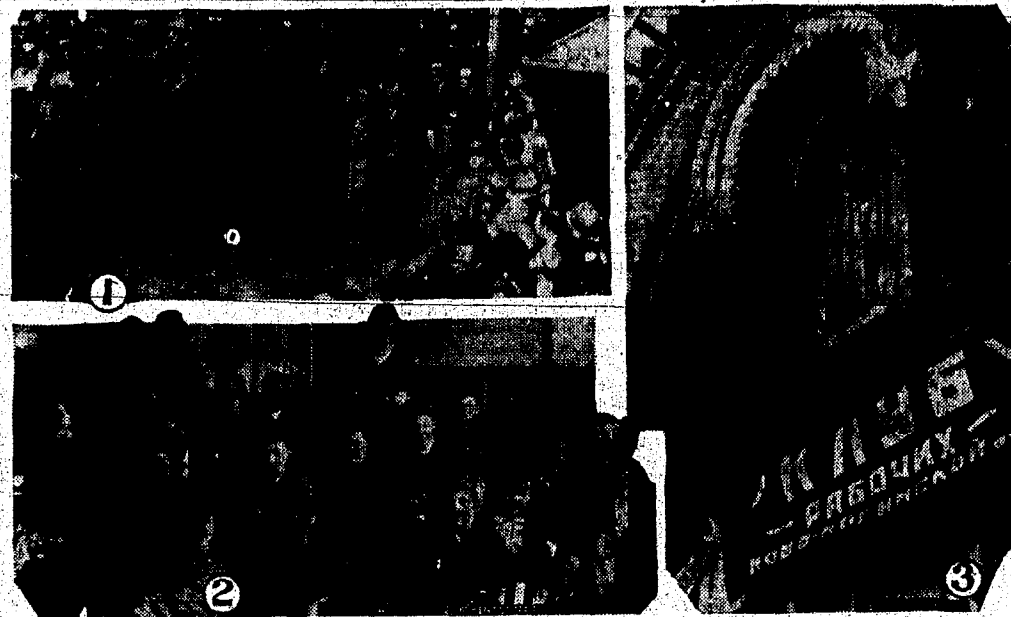

Saturday night will witness the final championship games between class C and D teams, after which trophies will be awarded the winners. Everything points to an overwhelming attendance at all games especially those of Friday and Saturday nights. Gaylord and West Branch are certain to attract large crowds from their respective towns, besides Grayling fans may always be counted upon to turn out in great numbers.

Saturday night final game will be certain to attract a large attendance. M. A. Bates manager of the tournament and his assistants, Emil Kraus and T. P. Peterson, have been working hard to have everything in readiness for the tournament. Through the courtesy of a number of our business men score cards have been provided to enable complete and accurate records to be kept by all.

The season tickets sell for $1.50 for adults and $1 for school pupils. The afternoon games will begin at 2:30 and the evening games at 7:30.

FIFTY-EIGHT DESTROYERS TO BE SCRAPPED

MOTHER-DAUGHTER BANQUET ENJOYED

HEAR INSPIRING ADDRESS BY MARGARET TEMPLE SMITH

The second annual Mothers' and Daughters' banquet sponsored by the Women's Club of our city was given Monday evening at the Michelson Memorial church.

It was an inspiring sight indeed to witness the large assemblage of mothers and daughters as they were seated at the long tables which filled the beautiful banquet room of the church. Two hundred proud, self-assured, happy mothers side by side with the large assemblage of object of God's love, their daughters.

The dining room was most attractive with streamers of soft pink and green crepe paper. The tables were a picture of daintiness with center decorations of pink flowers guarded by tall pink tapers.

Fourteen guests found places at the speaker's table. Included in this list were Mrs. Margaret Temple Smith of Bay City and Mrs. E. F. Hildebrand of Saginaw. Mrs. Herluf Sorenson, Pres. of the Women's club and the officers of the Goodfellowship club, and Miss Noreen LaBarge. Each of these was accompanied by her respective daughter or mother. Mrs. Smith, the speaker and honor guest of the evening, was accompanied by Mrs. E. Becker of Bay City.

A very appetizing and delicious dinner was put on by the ladies of the L. D. S. and the service rendered by the spiffy, white-coated gentlemen was one of the interesting features of the evening. They certainly "knew their stuff" and showed efficient home training.

Preceding the banquet and throughout the program the following musical selections were rendered:

Duet—"You Are A Wonderful Mother"—Miss Marie Schmidt and Miss Ione Arnold.

Solo—"Oh! Sweet Mystery of Life"—Miss Marie Schmidt.

Duet—"Mother of Pearl"—Miss

Louise McAllister and Mrs. H. G. Jarmen.

Solo—"Songs My Mother Taught Me"—Miss McAllister.

Each of these musical numbers was most beautifully rendered and the appreciation of the crowd was shown by the hearty applause which followed each selection. The toast "To the Mothers" given by Miss Noreen LaBarge was one of the most refreshing, sweet, youthful features of the evening. It was full of that wonderful love and devotion that responsive, sensitive daughters have for mother and a plea for more sympathy and a better understanding between daughters and mothers. The toast was responded to by Mrs. E. F. Hildebrand of Saginaw. "To the Daughters" Mrs. Hildebrand read a paraphrase of Kipling's "If" which was quite appropriate for daughters and she also gave the characteristic of an ideal daughter. Mrs. Sorenson introduced as the speaker of the evening, Mrs. Margaret Temple Smith, who was well known to Grayling audiences, having spoken before them on three different occasions.

Mrs. Smith has endeared herself to Grayling ladies not only by her charming, motherly personality but through her helpful and inspiring talks on these several occasions. Mrs. Smith's talk in full will be found at the end of this report.

In making the mothers' and daughters' banquet an annual affair in this community the Women's club are spreading the gospel of true relationship and better understanding between mothers and daughters. The wonderful response of two hundred mothers and daughters on this occasion shows with what enthusiasm and interest this splendid affair is received by the people of Grayling.

The following committee were responsible for its success: The committee in charge of the dining room was Mrs. T. P. Peterson, Mrs. A. J. Joseph, Mrs. Herluf Sorenson, Mrs. Herbert Gothro, and Mrs. J. C. McNamara. For the banquet, Mrs. Anna Herluf, Mrs. Thomas Cassidy and Mrs. Holger Schmidt had charge. The program was under the supervision of Mrs. Emil Giegling and the decorations, which were pink and green, were arranged by Mrs. T. P. Peterson.

When God made this beautiful world He looked it over and said "Tis Good"; then he thought "There is one to enjoy its beauty—the beasts and birds, the fish and owl are that part of its beauty but only enjoy what they partake of its food to maintain life." So he created man, in his own image, and this was very good. But man alone would tire and be lonely room of the Michelson Memorial and in years dis, so God's second thought (and 'tis a true saying that second thoughts are best"). He

Sponsored by the Service Commission of Michigan Grand Lodge. Rev. Carlton Brooks-Miller of Battle Creek will be the principal speaker.

While Rev. Carlton Brooks Miller, of Battle Creek, who will be the principal speaker of the evening, is a much younger man than one expects to find on the Masonic platform, he is one of the most popular of the Grand Lodge Speakers' Bureau. Not only is his talk on "The Candle of Daughters" intensely interesting and constructive but he has a delightfully easy manner of expressing it. In the past when the Service Commission has been fortunate enough to secure him on its programs, he has invariably met an overwhelming response, followed by requests that he "come again and talk twice as long!" He has appeared frequently before large Masonic audiences in Michigan and Ohio.

Rev. Miller is an ex-service man, and has been chaplain of the American Legion Post in Battle Creek ever since the war. Following the war, he entered the ministry and shortly thereafter became a Master Mason. He became so interested in Masonry that he made a trip to the Holy Land in 1924 and spent several weeks on the site of King Solomon's temple; he has brought back much that holds an appeal for those interested in the lore of the craft.

Rev. Miller's Masonic connections are, member of Ira A. Beck Lodge 503 F. & A. M. Battle Creek, Chapter R. A. M., Battle Creek Commander No. 33 and DeWitt Clinton Consistory, Grand Rapids, 320.

In his own church, the 1st Congregational of Battle Creek, it is not uncommon for him to hold early and late church on a Sunday morning, in order to preach twice the same sermon to accommodate the crowds which pack the doors.

Flyers will be interested in knowing that he is an expert aviator and has his pilot's license. On his trips to Chicago or Detroit, he most frequently goes by air.

Grayling Lodge No. 356 F. & A. M. will be host of the evening. It is expected that almost two hundred Masons from Rosecom north to Cheboygan will attend. The Masons in Grayling will no doubt be very well represented as there are about 150 Masons in Grayling at this time. Banquet will be held in the dining room of the Michelson Memorial and in years dis, so God's second thought (and 'tis a true saying that second thoughts are best"). He

GRAYLING HIGH DEFEATS WEST BRANCH

VISITORS LOSE THEIR FIRST GAME OF SEASON

The score was 22 and 16 and great was the fall thereof as a string of fifteen straight victories came crashing to earth and West Branch lost to Grayling on the Northern Light's home floor before a howling mob of rooters from both sides, who packed the gym and saw a last quarter drive net a victory for the local team by a decisive margin.

The game was a thriller all the way. The West Branch team fought desperately to add to their long continued winning streak. They fought a courageous battle and never ceased to be dangerous. But they were doomed to lose to the Northern Lights. Better floor generalship and a last quarter drive turned the issue at last and sent the local crowd home in high good humor, while the visitors, numerous enough, had a long cold trip back to make the evening complete.

The visitors held a one point advantage at the end of the first quarter, 5-4, though they lost the services of Captain Vogan, via the personal foul route, Rudy Harrison of the Lights went out of the game temporarily, with three personals, and didn't get back until the final quarter started. Grayling was on the right side of a 9-10 score at the halfway mark and managed to cling to the lead at the end of the third period. West Branch staged a rally in this quarter and the play was hot. Plenty hot. But as the last stanza opened Grayling threw into high gear and forged ahead with an offensive that would not be denied and which brought the decision to rest with Grayling. In the final eight minutes the visitors were held to a single point and the issue was not in doubt.

The game was a nice one to take. West Branch won on their own floor, and counted Grayling in as one of their victories as they continued to win. But everything that goes up must come down, except the price of coal, and every winning streak ends sooner or later. In spite of everything West Branch lost. They lost, and there could be but little doubt but that they deserved to lose; that the best team won. The partisans of the visitors were numerous and vocally active, but there could be no doubt in the minds of the most rabid that the final result was a fair index of the combatants of last Friday night. The game was handled by Potter of Central State and he called them close and accurately. Grayling was detected in error nine times and the losers ten.

The Reserve teams of the two schools fought to a 9-11 verdict for West Branch in a very tight game that aroused the enthusiasm of the crowd to a high pitch. The game was settled in the last four moments when Morse, forward for the winners, snared a one-hand hook shot that took its time about dropping and which he probably couldn't duplicate by the Fourth of July.

CENSUS TAKERS ARE ANNOUNCED

WORK MUST BE COMPLETED DURING APRIL

Frank Potter of Alpena, district census enumerator for this region, was in Grayling recently and while here reviewed the conditions relative to the taking of the census. This work will be done during the month of April and already the plans are practically complete for covering the entire country.

Clarence Johnson has been appointed enumerator of manufacturer and sales for the entire county and also for taking the census in Grayling village and township.

For Frederic and Maple Forest Mrs. Emma Howse has been appointed. For South Branch Hugo Schrieber Jr. Beaver Creek, Mrs. Etta Nowlin, and for Lovell, Edgar Douglas.

Manufacturers and agriculturists must make special reports giving information covering their activities in their respective lines. On the blank covering agriculture there are 232 questions to answer—most of them perplexing, of course. Same with the manufacturers reports. One is inclined to wonder why the department wants to know this or that, and perhaps say things that won't look good in print, because of the work required in summing up the answers. However the government believes it is necessary to learn these facts therefore it is up to us to assist the enumerators in every possible manner to get the information required.

While we doubt if there is a single person or family who will hesitate to give the census takers the information required still we believe it is well to suggest a warning that the penalty for refusing to answer any questions and for giving false reports is very severe.

GIANT PRESSES MUNCHES OUT FENDERS WITH 640,000 POUND BITE

Immen's Oakland Machine Has Hourly Capacity Of 720 Front Fenders

Exerting a bite of 640,000 pounds a giant fender press in the stamping plant of the Oakland Motor Car Company forms two front fenders at a time from heavy gauge sheet steel. Nonchalantly munching the fare fed into its capacious maw by skilled workmen, the immense machine produces 720 front fenders per hour. The power of big electric motors is multiplied so tremendously by gearing that the fender dies shape the steel as though it were wax.

The fender giant is only one of 200 presses in the Oakland stamping plant which range in power down to machines of only 30 ton pressure designated by the blase attendants as "midgets."

The big stamping plant, covering a quarter of a million square feet of floor area, produces approximately 150 different stampings for each Oakland Eight and Pontiac Six, representing about 500 press operations per car. During 1929 nearly 100,000,000 pounds of metal was fabricated in the plant.

During the last four months the Oakland Motor Car Company has awarded over $1,400 to its employees as prizes for suggested methods to reduce waste and increase efficiency in the Oakland-Pontiac factories.

URGES DAIRYMEN TO ADOPT DANES' FARMING SYSTEM

CHICAGO.—Unsound advice is being given to American dairy farmers in an attempt to convince them that they are themselves responsible for the present surplus of 88,000,000 pounds of butter and a resulting depression in butter prices, according to Harry Edward Freund, noted economist and lecturer.

Freund cited the case of Denmark, recognized as one of the world's most thrifty and prosperous countries, to prove his contention that American farmers are receiving "unsound advice" when they are told to "eat more butter and keep the prices up."

Instead, he said, American farmers should be advised to follow the thrifty Danes toward economic stability by "making good butter and eating wholesome substitutes if economically advisable."

"Denmark relies almost entirely on its dairy industry for prosperity," Freund pointed out. "The people of Denmark consume nearly sixteen times as much margarine per capita as do Americans. Yet the Danes are noted for their sturdy health and physical development. The death rate in Denmark from tuberculosis, various forms of kidney diseases, and other ailments due to improper diet is about 80 per cent less than the death rate from similar causes in the United States."

"While the Danes ship their butter abroad, they are great milk drinkers and produce their dairies for milk and cream to a much greater degree than do Americans. And thus they avoid vast butter surpluses."

"American dairy farmers would do well to follow the successful Danish plan rather than the economically unsound advice of those whose chief aim seems to be 'blame the farmer,'"

Freund said.

Child That "Stammers" Victim of Nervousness

The most usual form of speech disorder is "stammering," or "stuttering." From the standpoint of development there are two distinct types, one which commences with the development of speech and the other that begins after the child has learned to speak normally. The first form is the more difficult to correct.

The underlying cause of stammering is purely mental. It is essentially due to emotional disturbance, and implies lessened ability to meet a difficult situation. It is most frequently observed in so-called nervous, highly-strung children. As these children grow older they subconsciously fear that their speech organs will refuse to work and have the horror of being the object of ridicule. A sense of inferiority develops, establishing a vicious circle—the greater the dread, the more imperfect their speech.

According to some observers, stammering is more or less common among left-handed children when they are taught to become right-handed writers. This opinion is largely responsible for the objection to educators attempting to train left-handed children to become right-handed. It is also believed to be more common among boys than girls.—Health News.

Blind Students Aided in Professional Study

A blind person can now obtain a Braille manuscript copy of any work, however technical or abstruse, in any language. This has been made possible, says the British National Institute for the Blind, by the work of a band of volunteers who devote their lives to copying out for blind students the textbooks required in various professions.

The work is by no means easy, and does not simply imply copying line after line of printed words. Charts, notes, dates, albedums, tables, references, and a hundred other items have to be studied.

Students are asked to return the volumes when finished with, and from these a valuable library is being formed. Thousands of volumes on almost every branch of knowledge, from alchemy to zoology, are already in the students' catalogue.—London Tit-Bits.

Dropped Into Sea Lingo

Here is a story about a Nantucket Quakeress who was a very superior feeling person. On a visit to New Bedford the young woman was invited to a tea party and expressed a fervent hope that she would not use any sea phrase while there.

Keeping a close watch upon her words she got on all right until, as they started to leave the table, a man away up at the far end asked her how her father was doing. Every face was turned to her and every ear listening for word of the sick man.

Flustered by having the attention so suddenly focused on herself, she said: "Thank thee, but he rather goes a-stern." Then she was overcome with confusion, for she had lapsed into the sea lingo she had determined to avoid.—Brooklyn Enterprise.

Speed in Reading

Prof. Walter R. Pitkin of Columbia university stated that there are great differences in the speed of reading in different classes of society. Young newspaper men catch with one glance of the eye 47 words, while experienced editors take in as many as 72 words, which is more than the ordinary newspaper line. On the other hand, engineers, who deal with things rather than with words, have an average grasp of only 3.3 words. The engineers are credited, however, with retaining the meaning in a passage of 100 words better than the men of any other group.

The Boss's Daily Dozen

The boss used to say to me sometimes, "Never get mad at the sheep. It doesn't do any good. I never used to get mad when I herded." But at other times I have heard him tell how he would sometimes throw his cap on the ground and dance up and down on it and yell. Since he never got mad, it is evident that this was some form of physical culture, or perhaps his way of doing his daily dozen.—From "Sheep" by Archer B. Gillham.

ANNUAL TAX SALE

STATE OF MICHIGAN,
County of Crawford.

The Circuit Court for the County of Crawford in Chancery:
On the matter of the petition of Oramel B. Fuller, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed thereon.

On reading and filing the petition of the Auditor General of the State of Michigan praying for a decree in favor of the State of Michigan against each parcel of land therein described, for the amounts therein specified claimed to be due for taxes, interest and charges on each such parcel of land, and that such lands be sold for the amounts so claimed by the State of Michigan.

It is ordered that said petition will be brought on for hearing and decree at the April term of this Court to be held at the Village of Grayling in the County of Crawford, State of Michigan, on the 8th day of April A. D. 1930, at the opening of the Court on that day, and that all persons interested in such lands or any part thereof, desiring to contest the lien claimed thereon by the State of Michigan, for such taxes, interest and charges, or any part thereof, shall appear in said Court, and file with the clerk thereof their objections thereto on or before the first day of the term of this Court above mentioned, and that in default thereof the same will be taken as confessed and a decree will be taken and entered as prayed for in said petition. And it is further ordered that in pursuance of said decree the lands described in said petition for which a decree of sale shall be made, will be sold for the several taxes, interest and charges thereon as determined by such decree, on the first Tuesday in May thereafter, beginning at 10 o'clock a. m. on said day, or on the day or days subsequent thereto as may be necessary to complete the sale of said lands and of each and every parcel thereof, at the office of the County Treasurer, or at such convenient place as shall be selected by him at the county seat of the County of Crawford, State of Michigan; and that the sale then and there made will be a public sale, and each parcel described in the decree shall be separately exposed for sale for the total taxes, interest and charges, and the sale shall be made to the person paying the full amount charged against such parcel, and accepting a conveyance of the smallest undivided fee simple interest therein; or, if no person will pay the taxes and charges and take a conveyance of less than the entire thereof, then the whole parcel shall be offered and sold. If any parcel of land cannot be sold for taxes, interest and charges, such parcel shall be passed over for the time being, and shall, on the succeeding day, or before the close of the sale, be reoffered, and if, on such second offer, or during such sale, the same cannot be sold for the amount aforesaid, the County Treasurer shall bid off the same in the name of the State.

Witness the Hon. Guy E. Smith, Circuit Judge, and the seal of said Circuit Court of Crawford County this 13th day of February A. D. 1930.

GUY E. SMITH,
Circuit Judge.
CHARLES GIERKE, Clerk.
(SEAL)

STATE OF MICHIGAN

To the Circuit Court for the County of Crawford in Chancery:
The petition of Oramel B. Fuller, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, respectfully showing that the list of lands hereinafter set forth and marked "Schedule A," contains a description of all lands in said County of Crawford upon which taxes were assessed for the years mentioned therein, and which were returned as delinquent for non-payment of taxes, and which taxes have not been paid; together with the total amount of such taxes, with interest computed thereon to the time fixed for sale, and collection fee and expenses, as provided by law, extended against each of said parcels of land.

Your petitioner further shows to the Court that said lands were returned to the Auditor General under the provisions of Act 206 of the Public Acts of 1929, as delinquent for non-payment of said taxes for said years respectively, and that said taxes remain unpaid; except that lands included in said "Schedule A" for taxes of 1929 or prior years were returned to the Auditor General as delinquent for said taxes under the provisions of the general tax laws in force prior to the passage of Act 200 of the Public Acts of 1929, and which taxes remain unpaid.

Your petitioner further shows that in all cases where lands are included in "Schedule A" as aforesaid for taxes of 1929 or prior year, said lands have not been sold for said taxes or have been heretofore sold for said delinquent taxes and the sale or sales so made have been set aside by a court of competent jurisdiction, or have been cancelled as provided by law.

Your petitioner further shows and avers that the taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses as set forth in said "Schedule A," are a valid lien on the several parcels of lands described in said schedule.

Your petitioner further shows that the said taxes on the said described lands have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent; and the said taxes not having been paid, and the same being now due and remaining unpaid as above set forth, your petitioner prays a decree in favor of the State of Michigan against each parcel of said lands, for the payment of the several amounts of taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses, as computed and extended in said schedule against the several parcels of land contained therein, and in default of payment of said said several sums computed and extended against said lands, that each of said parcels of land may be sold for the amounts due thereon, as provided by law, to pay the lien aforesaid.

And your petitioner will ever pray, etc.

Dated February 11, 1930.

ORAMEL B. FULLER,
Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State.

HANSON APARTMENTS COMPLETED

Holger (Dad) Hanson has completed two suites of rooms over his restaurant on Michigan Ave. Each of these apartments contain four large rooms and a bath. They are artistically decorated, beautifully furnished, altogether livable rooms. All the rooms have an outside window which is a very desirable feature not always found in apartments. The kitchen appointments will delight the heart of any housewife. Hot and cold running water as well as water for drinking and cooking purposes are to be had. Built-in cabinets make them more convenient and they are heated with steam heat. These apartments make a very nice addition to Grayling's list of available living quarters and are among the nicest in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Hyde and son and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Dove and son, the gentlemen are both working as engineers for the State Highway Department are now occupying these apartments.

For washing and rinsing utensils a clean, safe water supply is absolutely necessary. Contaminated water may be a source of danger not only to persons living on the farm but also to those who use milk from the farm. Wells and springs should always be protected from surface drainage. The drainage from privies, hog pens, barnyards, and other sources of contamination should always be away from the well, and both springs and wells should be walled in, curbed, and tightly covered.

He was taken to a hospital there where he passed away. The remains were taken to Gaylord where funeral services were held from the home Saturday. Interment was at Johannesburg.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Lewis, three sisters, Miss Rosaline, a teacher in our high school, Cora who is a student at Alma College, and Gene and one brother Cyril both of whom are at home. Mr. Lewis had many friends among Gayling folks and all are very sorry to hear of his death. Several teachers from the school as well as other friends attended the services.

Guests to the number of thirty-two found their places at the tables which were decorated with bouquets of pink flowers flanked on each side with pink tapers. A gay time followed the supper when prizes were won by Mary Mahneke and Mildred Parker for the Peanuce, by Dorothy Roberts and Nels Olson for musical chairs, and by Mary Mahneke and Jerome Kessler for the lucky house number.

Dancing was one of the features of the party and favors of all kinds were given out during this part of the entertainment which gave color as well as real pep to the occasion. The guests left wishing their hosts many happy returns of the day.

SAYS RUDY IS OUTSTANDING

In the write-up of the Grayling-Gaylord basketball game Feb. 22nd, the Gaylord Herald-Times has this to say about one of the players (Rudy Harrison) on the Grayling team:

Grayling has one player that is outstanding, and without question one of the best high school players in this section. The game centered around him, and his uncanny ability to know where his as well as the opponents men were meant the difference between victory and defeat for Grayling. This young man plays center, and right on the job there. His ability to shoot baskets is remarkable, and it is said he is but a sophomore. Gaylord is going to have to face him for two more years.

Why the Church?

Some time ago, we read a social analysis in which the writer conveyed the idea that the Christian Church was a defunct organization and ought to be scrapped. And that startled us. But the more we thought of the proposition, the more we were painfully aware of the fact that there are more ways than one of advancing such an idea. Every community has its quota of citizens whose attitudes are negative toward the church as an institution and whose very indifference would result in the accomplishment of this very thing.

So that the remark which the writer had made was not so shocking after all. He was merely saying what many of my friends practice. In fact there is an eloquence in the active attitude which is more persuasive than mere words.

Sometimes we wonder if it has dawned on the minds of the indifferent the social tragedy that would ensue if the Church became impotent. It is the Church which calls the community to righteousness and goodwill. It is the church which hallows marriage and glorifies childhood. It is the church which imparts motive and instruction for social reform. It is the church which generates faith and courage and assaults the citadels of social wrong.

It is the church where philanthropy and education had their beginnings. It is the church that generated the social conscience that abolished slavery. It is the church that looks forward to the ultimate abolition of selfish aims in business, the establishment of industrial democracy and the outlawry of all business that destroys character.

Is it not sheer folly to advocate the scrapping of an institution like that? And is it any less a folly to be indifferent to the thing it seeks to do? Surely we recognize that organized religion is indispensable.

SHEP-BARD TALKIE SUCCESSFUL

The first experimental showing of "talkie" on board a man-of-war, recently given on board the battleship Texas, enroute to Panama, was considered successful.

Navy sound engineers have been working on the problem of talkie installation on board ship for some time, several difficulties not met with in theatres and auditoriums, having to be overcome.

The first showing was given at sea, so that the hardest possible service conditions would be met. These include vibration, wind and sea noises, etc. That the showing was successful, promises well for the future of this form of entertainment, not only on naval vessels, but on passenger ships as well, adding another means of relieving the tedium of an extended sea voyage.—Navy News.

CUSTER'S LAST STAND DRAMATIZED IN NEXT HEROES OF THE WORLD PROGRAM

General Custer's last stand against the Sioux Indians who in overwhelming numbers completely wiped out his entire command—one of the outstanding tragedies in American history—is to be dramatized in the twenty-second Heroes of the World program sponsored by Durant Motors, Inc., and presented by the National Broadcasting Company Sunday, March 9, at 7:00 p. m., Eastern Standard Time over WEAF and 38 affiliated stations in the United States and Canada.

The word picture painted by the writer of this historical episode is designed to leave a vivid and lasting impression of Custer's action when he realized his situation. The Indian hordes, outnumbering his estimate several times over, have wiped out Custer's skirmishers and detachments of flanking troops. His immediate command, all that remains of his famous Seventh Cavalry, has fallen into a trap set by Sitting Bull. Determined to sell their lives as dearly as possible these heroic men of the frontier face charge after charge of the Indians and die fighting.

Inside Information

Watercress fine chopped and creamed with butter, makes a delicious spread for graham bread sandwiches for club meetings, teas, and other social occasions. Minced parsley, flavored with a few drops of lemon juice, and mixed with butter, is another appropriate spread for sandwiches that are to be cut into fancy shapes with cookie cutters.

Corned meat kept over into the next summer should be watched closely in the spring, as the brine is likely to spoil. If the brine appears to be "ropy," remove the pieces of meat and scrub them thoroughly with a stiff brush and hot water. Then repack and cover with new brine. The brine should be kept in a cool place, as the sugar in it has a tendency to ferment.

NEWS REVIEW OF CURRENT EVENTS

Hoover Asks More Economy in Expenditures—Revolt in Santo Domingo.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

PRESIDENT HOOVER started off the week with a plea to the people of the nation to be moderate. In their requests to congress for appropriations for projects in various parts of the country. His aim is to keep governmental expenditures down to a figure so reasonable that an increase in taxes will be obviated. Though this should seem a worthy aim, and in stating it the President carefully made it plain that he was not reflecting on the wisdom of congress, he brought upon himself the wrath of some of the senators, notably Mr. Glass of Virginia.

The appropriations situation was the subject of a White House breakfast conference attended by Republican leaders of both houses of congress, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, Undersecretary of the Treasury Ogden Mills, Col. J. C. Roop, director of the budget, and Walter H. Newton, one of the President's secretaries.

Mr. Newton issued a statement in which he enumerated proposals for increased expenditures totaling $1,735,000,000, which he said if approved would imply an increase in taxes of 40 per cent. The list, however, included many projects that the congressional leaders had either never heard of or knew would not be given serious consideration. Consequently the imposing list did not appear to frighten them.

Senator Glass, reading Newton's statement in the senate, declared that "nothing more shameless has ever emanated from the White House with in my thirty years of service in congress." The President, he said, was setting up a straw man merely for the purpose of knocking him down, since, as every one knew, many bills were introduced at every session of congress only for home consumption and with no idea that they would be enacted into law.

Mr. Hoover, meanwhile, had given out a statement obviously intended to pacify congress. In it he said: "It should be understood that the unprecedented drive now in progress for new legislation and for expansion of established services which increase expenditure beyond the budget, only in a small part originate with members of congress or heads of government departments. It originates from different sections of the country itself and from various groups and organizations, each vigorously supporting their own projects. Many of these projects are worthy and no doubt can and should be undertaken some time over future years, especially when funds are free by completion of legislation already adopted." And he urged "the people at home" to realize that the government cannot undertake immediately every worthy project.

IMMEDIATELY after the issuance of the President's economy plea the house adopted a senate resolution appropriating $7,000,000 for loans to farmers in the flood stricken areas of fifteen Southern and Western states, though opponents declared the measure was "pork" and "political pie."

Under the resolution, as adopted, the secretary of agriculture may make advances for the purchase of seed, feed and fertilizer, which banks refuse. Loans in only six states, Alabama, Florida, Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia were authorized under the original senate resolution. The house agriculture committee, however, added Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Minnesota, North Dakota, Montana, and New Mexico and the house itself tacked on Missouri and Oklahoma.

Representative O'Connor of Oklahoma said: "Everybody knows the purpose of this bill is to get congressional votes, but so long as you are cutting the pie, Oklahoma wants its piece."

THE Dominican republic was in the throes of a revolution last week. Insurgent forces, determined to keep President Vasquez from running for re-election and to assure the free choice of his successor in May, assembled in various parts of the island and marched on the capital city, Santo Domingo. They entered the city firing volleys in the air and were enthusiastically greeted by the populace. There was no bloodshed as the rebels took possession of all the public buildings. President Vasquez took refuge in the American legation and other administration leaders sought the protection of various foreign consulates. Vice President Alfonseca resigned. Charles B. Curtis, the American minister, was acting as intermediary between the insurgents and the government and was trying to bring about an agreement whereby the situation could be solved without bloodshed or damage to property. The insurgent leaders had promised to respect all lives and property and made no changes except in the police force of the city.

John M. Cabot of Massachusetts, a young member of the American embassy staff, was most active as the emissary of Minister Curtis and after a swift trip to Santiago to confer with Rafael Urena, chief of the insurgents, he was hopeful that a peaceful settlement of the whole controversy could be arranged.

In Washington it was said by officials that it probably would not be necessary to send marines to the Dominican republic to protect American lives and property. If they are needed, however, there are plenty within easy reach, and the scouting fleet is now in Caribbean waters.

CAMILLE CHAUTEAUMPS. Radical Socialist, and his government of France lasted only five days. Then they were denied a vote of confidence by the chamber of deputies and were forced to resign. Chateaufort told parliament he had no objection of following the radical policies of the left wing, except that taxes would be reduced, but would maintain the lines of action which Andre Tardieu, his predecessor, had outlined, including his policy in the naval conference at London. The center refused to believe him, and the left wing was displaced. The vote, which was 312 to 277 against Chateaufort, showed there is no real majority in the chamber of deputies and that any government can survive only through a coalition of center and left groups.

Raymond Poincare was called by President Doumergue but declined to undertake the formation of a ministry on the ground of ill health. So Tardieu was given the job again and Poincare said he would help him, though he could not accept a place in the cabinet. The expectation was that Tardieu would be able to make up his government in time to resume work in the naval conference by March 5.

IN THE absence of the French delegation the chief delegates of the other nations in the London naval conference resumed their negotiations, and it was reported the Americans, English and Japanese were making notable progress in adjusting their differences. The British official spokesman gave out a communique laying stress on the fact that "the five-power pact is still holding the center of the picture" and adding that "any sort of an agreement reached will be purely tentative, will be dependent on French and Italian acceptance and will also depend upon its inclusion in a five-power treaty."

the misfortune of losing her husband who died in Detroit a few months ago. The children will enter school
Monday in Grayling and Mrs. Curtis will remain with her mother until school is out. Kenneth McLeod also of Detroit, accompanied them to Grayling and is spending a few days at his home.

Mrs. Harley Kennedy was hostess
Monday evening at a pretty birthday party in honor of her sister Miss Evelyn Lovelly who was twenty years old on that day. There were twenty guests. The evening was spent dancing. The lunch table was beautif-fully decorated in pink and white, streamers falling from the electric lights to each individual place. The favors were in the form of rosebuds and in each one was a lighted electric bulb. There were two bouquets of carnations on the table, as well as a large birthday cake decorated with twenty candles. Those who attended report a lovely time. Richard Kerns of Ann Arbor was an out-of-town guest at the party.

Henry Bowen appeared before Justice of Peace Hans Petersen Monday afternoon and pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing coal from Emil Neiderer. Mr. Neiderer had many times noticed sleigh tracks leading from the coal car and has been suspicious that there has been someone taking coal. On Monday morning,
Mr. Neiderer followed the sleigh tracks to the Bowen home where he found the sleigh. He summoned Sheriff Bobensmyer who came to the Bowen home. Not finding Mr. Bowen at home the Sheriff questioned Mrs.
Bowen who admitted that Mr. Bowen had taken a considerable amount of coal from the car on Sunday. At the arraignment, Mr. Bowen was fined ten dollars and costs or ten days in jail.
Not being able to pay the fine, Mr.
Bowen is serving his sentence.

AGRICULTURAL NOTES

A poultry house for sitting hens should be secluded, slightly darkened, and separated from the houses for layers and breeders. Place the nests so that the hens won't have to fly or jump into them.

Cowpeas for hay are better if grown with other crops than alone. The sorghums (sorghos and Kafirs), Sudan grass, Johnson grass, soybeans, and millet are suitable. Sorghos or kafirs, when grown with cowpeas, make a good hay or silage. This mixture cures more easily than cowpeas alone, makes a well-balanced ration, and is relished by all kinds of livestock.

If the dairyman buys all his feed, makes all his labor, and disposes of the milk at current wholesale prices, he will make little if any money. If he buys all his feed and does all his own work, he may make day wages. To make the greatest profit raise most or all the feed and market it through the dairy cow at a price at least equal to what the same feed would cost on the market.

It is easier to sow celery seed evenly if it is mixed several times its bulk of finely sifted white sand, white corn meal, fine hominy grits, or any similar material that will not injure the seeds. Celery seeds are so small that 70,000 of them weigh only one ounce, and it is difficult to distribute them thinly enough if sown alone.

Poultrymen always used to cool the eggs hatching in an incubator by taking them out for a short time each day. It has been found that this practice is unnecessary, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture, except when the temperature of the incubator has been running too high. To decide whether to cool eggs or not, notice the size of the air cell, which should gradually increase in size. If the development is too rapid, cool the eggs until they feel slightly cool to the touch.

It's a good idea to make a small outdoor seedbed, with specially prepared soil, in a corner of the farm garden, to start the plants. They will be more stocky if started here and later transplanted. A good soil mixture for the seedbed is one part of well-rotted manure, two parts of good garden loam or rotted sods, and one part of sharp, fine sand. The addition of leaf mold or peat makes the soil better. Mix the materials well and sift the soil.

The most profitable pig is the one that never stops growing till it goes to market. Pigs are less likely to be fed irregularly and to lose weight if they and the sows are fed in self-feeders where several days' or even a week's supply of feed may be stored. At the U. S. Department of Agriculture experiment farm in Maryland sows and pigs on self-feeders have proved more thrifty than those that were hand-fed. In tests comparing the two methods of feeding, No. 2 yellow corn, commercial gray middlings of good quality, and 60 per cent tankage were the chief feeds. The pigs ate when they pleased and as much as they pleased. The outstanding results of the tests were that in the self-fed lots the feed cost per 100 pounds of gain was materially less and the sows and pigs were in better condition at weaning time.

An effective trap for roaches is made by greasing the sides of deep bread tins with a little rancid butter. The roaches are attracted by the food odor and are unable to climb out because of the greased sides. Dusting thoroughly with sodium fluoride on shelves and in cracks about the kitchen will also exterminate roaches effectively. Sodium fluoride is poisonous to people as well as to roaches. Keep it away from children and pets.

It is to the housekeeper's interest to see that the roads about her home are oiled or regularly sprinkled, either by the community or by individual residents, to help keep dirt from blowing into the house in the season for open windows and doors. Muddy or dusty shoes and clothing are another source of dirt in the house. Much of this can be kept out by going away with dirt walks and bare ground near the house, by insisting that mats and scrapers be used outside the doors, and by providing special places just inside where muddy rubbers, boots, and coats may be left.

THREE YEARS OF TORTURE ENDED BY NEW KONJOLA

When All Else Tried Failed Konjola Proved Again Its Amazing Merit

MRS. J. S. ROWSEY

"How I wish I had known of Konjola long ago!" Thousands, who suffered while seeking in vain for relief until they found Konjola, have said that. One of these is Mrs. J. S. Rowsey, 10222 Twelfth street, Detroit. And think how happy she must have been when she paid this tribute to Konjola:

"How I wish I had known Konjola long ago, for this is the only medicine that ever helped me. Three years ago I was afflicted with stomach and kidney troubles. Pains settled in the small of my back; I had dizzy spells and attacks of nausea. My feet and ankles were badly swollen. Constipation added to my misery, and I was sick all over and completely discouraged.

The many endorsements of this new and different medicine, Konjola, induced me to try it. To make a long story short, it took Konjola just three weeks to vanquish every last one of my ailments. I can hardly believe that I am the person who was so miserable three weeks ago. Konjola certainly restored me to glorious health when all else I tried had failed."

Konjola is sold in Grayling at the Mac & Gidley drug store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Woods Used for Paper

Spruce is the principal wood used in the manufacture of paper. Large quantities of hemlock are also consumed as this wood ranks next to spruce in volume of material from which pulp is made.

ANALYZE THE ALLOWANCE ON YOUR USED CAR

If a dealer pays you more than the true worth of the car he must make up the difference by extra charges on the new car or re-sell it to some one else at too high a price

PERMANENT value is always better than a temporary bargain in the purchase of an automobile. It pays to look ahead and consider reliability and ultimate up-keep costs, as well as comfort, safety, speed, and beauty of line and color.

Since most automobiles are bought for replacement, the value set on your used car is a factor in almost every purchase. Frequently it is given an importance beyond its true worth.

Used cars have a definite market value and you are justly entitled to an allowance based on that value. It is not fair that you receive less. It is not to your best interests to receive more.

If a dealer pays you more than the true worth of the car he must either re-sell it to some one else at too high a price or make up the difference on the new car. This he cannot do unless he is allowed an excessive profit on the car or on financing, extra equipment and other charges. In either case, you pay the bill, for no way has yet been found to give something for nothing. The money must come from somewhere.

You may not get the largest used-car allowance from the Ford dealer, but that very fact should give you confidence that you are receiving full value in the new car. Ford charges are not marked up or increased to cover a high trade-in allowance on your old car.

Because there is no waste, extravagance or undue profit in manufacturing, distribution or selling, every dollar you pay for a Ford brings a full dollar in return. In lower first cost, in reliability and long life, in the low cost of operation, service and replacement parts, the Ford will save you much more than the seeming difference in trade allowance.

FURTHERMORE, at least $75 extra value is given to you in the new Ford in the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield, the Rustless Steel, the five steel-spoke wheels, and the four Houdaille hydraulic double-acting shock absorbers. The unusually large number of ball and roller bearings, and the extensive use of fine steel forgings instead of castings or stampings, are other features that show the extra quality built into the Ford car.

Wonders of Science

A scientist has been able to make a dog's mouth water by merely ringing a dinner bell. Ain't science grand? We have heard that the ringing of a telephone bell has brought a lump in a guy's throat.—Los Angeles Times.

THE FOUNDATION OF SUCCESS

Notwithstanding the variety of human wants and the fact that we all want different things, there is one thing we all desire—and that is SUCCESS. Yet it is surprising to note how few people really attempt to achieve success in a business-like way. Most people hope and dream for their ship to come in instead of planning and working for it. Hoping and dreaming alone will not bring success. Planning and working for it in the right way surely will bring it.

What is "Success?" Webster defines success as the "prosperous termination of any enterprise." Abraham Lincoln said: "It begins with saving money."

Andrew Carnegie said: "The failure of the man who does not save his money due only to the fact that he has no money with which to take advantage of opportunities that come in the way of every man, but also and particularly to the fact that such a man is not able or fit to avail himself of these opportunities. The man who cannot and does not save money cannot and will not do anything else worth while."

James J. Hill: "If you want to know whether you are destined to be a success or a failure in life you can easily find out. Are you able to save money? If you aren't, drop out. You will lose. The seed of success is not in you."

George Washington: "Economy makes happy homes and sound nations. Instill it deep."

John Wanamaker: "The difference between the clerk who spends all his salary and the clerk who saves part of it is the difference in ten years between the owner of a business and the man without a cent."

With E. Gladstone: "Economy is next to the keystone of character and success. A boy who is taught to save his money will rarely be a failure or a failure. The man who saves will rise in his trade or profession steadily. This is inevitable. For all tell the same story that Edward Brothers Investment Institute advocates—Saving is the Foundation of Success."

MOTHER-DAUGHTER

BANQUET ENJOYED

caused Adam to fall into a deep sleep and the first operation was performed, a rib was removed and a foundation for God's second thought—a Woman was created, a rare companion for Man. Then God must have said on surveying his work, "This very good." Still with just one couple, male and female, the race would soon be extinct, so he caused a great love in the hearts of Adam and Eve from which came the wonderful mystery of life, which neither science nor power can define, and under the heart of Eve God placed a nest to receive and hold for months a part and parcel of her body and blood and at the proper time into Eve's arms was laid the dearest, sweetest thing on earth, the result of God's own handiwork—a baby. None but a mother knows the joy and thanksgiving of the consummation of birth. Then God gave his command to "increase and multiply and inhabit the earth."

To be a mother is to be among the greatest artists of the world. A tiny mind, a tiny will, even the threads of a future life are in her hand. What a mighty responsibility motherhood means—love, sacrifice, sorrow, anxiety and great moments of happiness, but above all the responsibility of a soul brought into this world that did not ask to come. Our great men and women all declare what Lifeline did so many times, "All that I am I owe to my mother."

Almost the first thought of a mother is the health of her child. We all know the strength of a nation depends on the health of its people, then the happiness comes next. No sacrifice is too great, no work too hard to do to the spirit of motherhood. The only bad thing a mother does to us is to die and leave us and if she had control of her life, she would not do that. Do you girls realize what a mother truly is? How she longs for the careless so often denied; not because you do not love her but because she is always there when you want her, or because you are just a tiny bit careless. Remember how much it means to give her the kiss or loving pat and tell her often that you love her. She knows it, but she loves to be told so. Children are not always to blame if they do not show affection; many a mother has been so busy that she has said "Oh no bother me now," when perhaps just at that time the girls have needed someone to pour out their hearts to, to discuss some worry or some secret that only a mother should share, and she misses the opportunity and someone else receives the confidence at this psychological moment.

Then we mothers must remember that what we want our girls to be, we must be ourselves, and not let some other woman steal from us our sacred right; we must enjoy their pleasures and share their troubles. The girl of today, or as we so often say, "The Modern Girl," God bless her, is such an improvement over our own girls but girls less fortunate, ridiculed, in fact been the subject of much talk in every place. Her dress, which we think is the very best ever given, the most sanitary, convenient, and prettiest style. Of course there are some, healthy, normal, intelligent, is always the girl of the exaggerated type with a little shorter and a little less cloth than others, but if she could see herself, or rather her lower extremities, bowlegged, knock-kneed, the dress would at once take the proper length. However, the girls of today, many of them, make their own clothes and the loose comfortable dresses give a freedom to the body that could not be when corsets and small waists of a few years ago made the girls appear ridiculous in shape and motion.

Then see the sensible shoes our girls wear. We scarcely see French heels for walking. This generation of girls are the mothers of the future healthy, strong bodies of citizens. Then the bobbed hair—terrible some say—I say comfortable, clean, healthy heads of hair and a joy to shampoo and comb when getting ready for school or business. Why such a fuss when in a short time the hair will be strong, thick and healthy. Here again is the exaggerated type with hair like Fijie Islander. Then you say, their style of dancing! Yes, we have been sorry to see the wiggling, squirming, whirling called dancing, but 'tis the exception not the rule, only it attracts our notice and we forget the graceful dozens with their youthful joy in keeping time to entrancing music, not jazz, which has its place among the heathen and wild Indian.

Then again the girls are said to be bold when they ask the WHY of conditions. I tell you, mothers, the girls of today are honest, straightforward and will prove it in the coming years. They are wise companions for life and will be better home-makers than wives who are not informed as to facts and are wives in name only. They are interested in the question of life and its problems. They seek knowledge to improve conditions. Call upon the girls of today to assist in any kind of work and they are always ready. When the World War made its demand on womanhood, it was not only mothers, but sisters in all walks of life, who responded "What can I do?" No work was too hard, no hours were too long. Let us not forget that they were all young a while ago and youth comes but once.

The girls of today shock us with the question of birth control or the solution of the double standards of morals. The college girls are unanimous in their decision of when they become citizens of unequivocal man and woman. The question that has always been on the hearts of women, the modern girls are far from perfect, they have faults and are ready to admit them and try to correct them, but they are "just girls." If they have curiosity, they do not brood and wonder and worry, but try to find things out in a straightforward way. They are just natural. How often we hear mothers say "If my mother had told me something about the real problems she had to face in married life, and how she met them, I would have been a better wife and a more worthy mother." Let us mothers and grandmothers be generous, kind and seek to help not only our own girls but girls less fortunate, at ease as circumstances and conditions of life. We know the modern girl is the hope of the coming generation and as a whole, the girls are sane, healthy, normal, intelligent, preparing themselves for either business or marriage. She is not, as a rule, the silly, foolish creature pictured in newspapers and many magazines: not a "flapper" in the broad sense but the "flapper" the extravagant type and in the minority—an example for the girl worth while. Let her flap, she will soon wear out and be forgotten. She is like a passing shadow, hers for a while, then some other freak will attract notice but OUR GIRLS, big, kind, generous girls will live always and be what we have hoped and prayed for, what we have longed to be for their sakes, the very best kind of wife and mother. We have the utmost confidence in the coming generation of womanhood. Let us keep always before us what we are "they are looking to us for the example."

We must as mothers not forget, to encourage our girls, not criticize them for if we look back honestly we will find, not the same things and conditions, but equally as bad and equally good. This beautiful old world is just what one people make it for God created it and declared it good. When we look around at the beauties of nature, and think what a little it takes to make happiness can we not try to be happy. Every day some of us lose a child or children beyond recall. We had the opportunity to be their friend and guide, a refuge in any storm they met, and aid in trouble, or to share their joy and happiness and when a misunderstanding or by the desire to have our own way, a breach is made, that is hard to cover. We forget we were young and headstrong. Imaginative youth must have its play, and some of our adult imagination can hardly be moved on their creaking rusty hinges. We must learn to imagine impossible things and enjoy the process, and important as the sense of humor is, if displayed at a wrong time may be fatal to budding confidence. A youth likes to be taken seriously. Theodore Roosevelt said, "It is the family life which makes the man or woman and it is the community life that makes a nation. It is not enough to be parents; we must be friends." There is a saying "Do not apologize to your friends, they understand, and your enemies would not believe you anyway!" That word understanding often is the bridge that spans trouble. We older ones forget and are impatient, not meaning to be. There is no better place to apply the golden rule than in our dealing with our children. Mother doesn't understand, are sad words, but sadder still is father doesn't care. Perhaps the child was right who insisted that it was not he but his parents that was lost. At any rate it is time that parents and children found each other.

We all seek happiness and content. When true happiness is found in our own four walls that we call HOME. God planted a garden of flowers most rare; in which he placed a rose most fair. And angels from the sky above saw him place a kiss of love. On the brow of the rose he loved so dear. And heard him whisper in her ear To thee I give what I give no other, I give to you the name of mother.

Home is where the heart is In one place or another, But Home has always been to me, The heart of you dear mother.

NEWS & COMMENTS FROM WASHINGTON

(By Congressman Roy O. Woodruff, Tenth Michigan District.)

The outstanding development of the week in Washington was the warning of President Hoover to the country—and the Congress that appropriations must be kept within the budget and that any violation of this warning must result in a deficit which could be made up only through increased taxation. Much criticism of the President was offered by the Democrats, Senator Carter Glass on one side, and Democratic House Leader John Garner on the other. This criticism was to have been expected, of course. But the fact remains that the people will appreciate the President's frankness and they will also appreciate his efforts to prevent heavier taxation. As the President pointed out, each district expects its representative to secure appropriations for worthy projects, but not knowing the "State of the Union," the innumerable bills which represent sectional demands upon the Representatives in Congress, and not aware of the state of the Treasury, the districts do not realize the burden these many times multiplied demands place upon the Federal finances. Economy is a necessity of this session of the Congress and the President is to be commended for his frankness in saying so.

The entire world, and Washington in particular, is watching with keen disappointment the apparent failure of the London Naval Conference to attain reduction of tonnage. In fact the conditions in France with her "again-out-again" governmental policies have practically pre-determined that no real accomplishment will be possible. This is too bad. The most unreasoning emotion in the world is fear, and Europe is filled with fear—fear of she knows not what. But until that fear is replaced by confidence, little can be done by this country except mark time. It is a strange analogy that Europe cannot pay her war debts, that she pleads poverty when dealing with the United States, but is unwilling to stop spending for war materials.

The total farm population on last January 1 was estimated by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics as being 27,222,000, a decrease of 269,000 from the number on farms on January 1, 1929. Incidentally, late reports show that the economic relations between agriculture and industry are the same as they always have been. Industry has followed agriculture into the valley of depression, and with farm relief in sight, will follow it back up the peaks again. Those who believe any activity in this country is independent of all other activities fool themselves. Assertion was made in the House of Representatives this week by Representative Fitzgerald, Republican, of Dayton, Ohio, that practically every one of the 47 Federal Joint Stock Land Banks is insolvent. An investigation of the whole situation under the farm loan act has been demanded. That something must be done to save the banks is beyond question now. But whether conditions instead of faulty administration are to blame, only long study and investigation can determine.

Washington diverted its attention from official business long enough on February 22 to again honor the founder and patron whose name it bears. Despite all that has been written of George's shortcomings, his human attributes and his indiscretions, he grows more honored and revered each year. Great men truly live on, although their personalities may depart to another world, and the puny efforts of the muck-rakers to dig up scandal about their lives and acts bear none of the ill-tasting fruit intended.

Charles Evans Hughes took the two oaths of office as Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court in simple ceremonies on February 24. The hurricane of criticism has died down and nothing more will be heard

Free Want Ads. to Subscribers

During the month of March all "For Sale" and "Wanted" ads in the Avalanche will be run free to paid-in-advance subscribers. This gives our subscribers an opportunity to advertise any articles they have no further use for—churns, plows, cars, furniture, phonographs and records, farms and other land, etc. Also, there will be many things you will want. Someone undoubtedly has just such an article as you are wanting and by putting a little want ad in our paper you will find just what you want.

Of course those in business will understand this offer does not apply to goods which they carry in stock for sale. It does apply, however, to articles not connected with their business which they wish to dispose of, or something not connected with their business which they wish to buy.

This offer is not made as an inducement for anyone to pay their subscription—we don't have to. The Avalanche, we believe, has the best paid up subscription list in northern Michigan.

It is simply a good-natured effort to extend the usefulness of our Want-ad. department to our friends, and is another added feature to make the Avalanche more valuable to its readers.

A WISE MOTOR CAR INVESTMENT

Consider a few of the basic facts that make the new Chevrolet Six such a thoroughly sound investment.

It offers a great six-cylinder valve-in-head engine, with its capacity increased to 50 horsepower... assuring the smooth, quiet, resilient performance which is so essential in a modern automobile.

It offers the all-weather braking efficiency of internal-expanding, completely enclosed 4-wheel brakes—big, powerful, quiet and easy to apply. It offers the modern riding comfort of four long semi-elliptic, chrome-vanadium steel springs—under the cushioned control of Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers.

It offers the greater beauty, comfort and safety of bodies by Fisher—built of selected hardwood and steel... and providing thousands upon thousands of miles of quiet, care-free service.

In fact, every important engine advancement has been incorporated in the new Chevrolet Six. With all these important advancements—coupled with greatly reduced prices for the entire Chevrolet line—it is only logical that thousands are saying every day—"The New Chevrolet Six is a wise motor car investment!"

Health Talks

By Dr. G. D. Corneliusen and Ethel Hoffa, R. N.

The Children's Fund of Michigan will conduct a series of classes in maternal and infant hygiene in Crawford and Roscommon counties, beginning March 16th.

All women who want to know how to keep themselves and their babies strong and healthy are urged to attend.

There will be six meetings of one hour each with talks on: Prenatal care and nursing demonstration. Care of the infant and demonstration. Care of the pre-school child. Food for the family. Child training. Home hygiene demonstration. Come prepared to ask questions. We hope all women interested in the health of mother and baby will attend. Watch the papers for date, time and place where these classes will be held.

The schedule of dates and places will appear in our issue of next week.

The fifth grade has been carrying out a new health program under the suggestion of Mrs. Gorman, our school nurse. Every time a health rule is violated it is brought up in court. Our court judge for last month was Billy Joseph, who acted splendidly.

The other officers were: Nurse: Elsie Mae LaMotte. Assis. nurse: Nina Lovely. Doctor: Max Ferguson. Assis. doctor: Kermit Charron. Thermometer Inspector: Fred Welsh. Desk Inspector: Matilda Collen. General Room Inspector: Louise Nolrot.

Care of chart: Marguerite Moggo. New officers are starting this week for the month of March.

Nearly Killed by Gas —Druggist Saves Her

"Gas on my stomach was so bad it nearly killed me. My druggist told me about Adierka. The gas is gone now and I feel fine."—Mrs. A. Adams.

Simple glycerine, buckthorn, saline, etc., as mixed in Adierka, helps GAS on stomach in 10 minutes! Most remedies act on lower bowel only, but Adierka acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel, removing poisonous waste you never knew was there. Relieves constipation in 2 hours. It will surprise you.
